STICKING MY NECK OUT

For comments, suggestions or tips, please contact Larry. To view past newsletters or homepage.

PREFACE: I had to fight long and hard to put out this current Newsletter. It is simply my predictions of things that could possibly happen within the run-up to November 3rd.

I apologize to the readers if they find my predictions boring – or redundant. I would appreciate any comments or ideas that you might have, regarding the upcoming election.

ON WITH THE SHOW

I have been hounding my colleagues here at LawrenceKlepinger.com to allow me a free reign on my predictions for the upcoming November 3rd Presidential Election.

They finally relented – upon threat of death. Of course, that is a joke, for those who are so jaded nowadays that they can't tell a joke when it slaps them in the face.

So without further pontification, here are my election predictions:

Scenario #1 Joe Biden will be the Democratic presidential nominee – and whomever he picks (other than Michelle Obama) Biden, along with the Democratic Party, will suffer one of the biggest defeats in modern, political history.

Scenario #2 Joe Biden will be the Democratic presidential nominee, a woman “of color” will be his running mate, Biden will have immediate health problems, he will be removed, the woman “of color” will choose someone of stature, to be her running mate.

Scenario #3 Joe Biden will be shunted aside before the Democratic convention, Michelle Obama will be replace him, and she will then choose her running mate – probably a man to “balance” the ticket.

Of the above 3 scenarios – I think #3 is the most likely one to happen.

Democratic Convention Scenario – There will be no actual Democratic convention – it will be totally virtual. That way it will be much easier to control the Sanders wing of the party. They will simply be ignored and shoved out – like they were last time around.

Debate Scenario – there will be NO face-to-face debates. The Democrats are not that dumb. I will hedge my prediction that if there is a debate, it will not be in person – again being presented virtually, via televised Mass Media. This way the MSM can cover for Biden (or Michelle) and his plethora of continual gaffes.

The best scenario is to keep Biden on the ticket, use the Wuhan virus as an excuse not to debate directly. However, if the Democrats take Biden out too soon, then his successor would be forced into debating Trump. That is the last thing the Democrats want – face to face confrontation with Donald Trump. He would demolish anybody, including Michelle Obama.

Republican Convention Scenario – President Trump will be nominated by acclamation, along with Mike Pence. Trump will not replace Pence as his running mate. The convention will also be virtually televised via the MSM, because they do not want to show the “yuge” amount of support for President Trump.

Election Outcome

IF, it is Biden/Woman of color and Trump/Pence, Trump will garner a minimum of 336 Electoral votes and could go as high as 400 or more.

The Un-silent Majority will come out in massive support of Trump. Black support will top 25%, Hispanic and Asian turnout will be around 20%.

IF, it is Biden/Michelle Obama and Trump/Pence it will be closer – but Trump will still win.

IF, it is a ruptured Democratic convention, where all hell breaks loose and Michelle Obama is “drafted” and they pick a “moderate,” then it is going to be a real horserace.

But, whatever the final political scenario – Trump will win on November 3, 2020. That, you can take to the Bank!

THE AFTERMATH

If Trump wins a second term, the House will also revert back to the GOP, and the Senate will remain in Republican control.

THEN, things will get done at lightning speed.

If, on the other hand, the Democrats manage to win – especially with Michelle Obama and company – the country will never be the same again.

And it won't be Trump's fault – it will be the fault of We the People.

FINAL THOUGHTS

I have found it profoundly interesting that Barack Obama is coming out in full-force for Joe Biden.

But this is a ploy – yet another Sun-Tzu deception.

If Biden is ousted, which I truly believe will happen, then Obama can say he was “behind Biden all the way,” thus deflecting any criticism of bias toward his wife.

CRAZY AFTERTHOUGHT

If Michelle Obama is actually elected president, Ruth Bader Ginsburg will retire – and Michelle Obama will put Barack Obama on the Supreme Court.

Remember, if the Democrats win, and Michelle Obama is the president, the down-ballot votes will, more than likely, go to the Democrats.

The Democrats, if they win the Presidency, they could retain the House – and possibly capture the Senate.

STICKING MY NECK WAY OUT THERE

One thing about being a Sovereign Individual – you have to have the courage to STATE your ideas and concepts, clearly and concisely – and not give a damn what other people think.

The wishy-washy “predictions” that everyone is giving are just talking points, parroting what each other has already said.

Never be ashamed of the chances you take; only those in which you lacked the courage to try!

Yes, I am sticking my neck out – but I have no regrets. When I ran for United States Congress, I only missed winning the primary by 1700 votes – without taking a penny in campaign donations.

Most pundits said I was going to get creamed and that, “You don’t stand a snowball’s chance in hell.”

Yes, I lost. But you can damn well be assured that we tried. And we never, never, never, never gave in.

I wonder if all Sovereign Individuals have a little bit of Winston Churchill’s DNA in their bloodstream?

I hope I did not bore you too much with this Newsletter and my line of predictions. I am fully prepared for the jeers, if I make even a slight mistake.

That is it for now. Take care, stay safe and keep thinking positive.

Until next time, Sayonara from Kobe, Japan!
